4. NOTABLE FEATURES, HISTORICAL SIGNIFICANCE AND DESCRIPTION The Erickson House is located on a bank above the Little Elk Creek where once was located the Cecil Manufacturing Company which was a textile mill. It is reputed that this mill made cloth for suits which were were worn by President Jefferson. At any rate, it is the same company which was instrumental in getting the Reverend John Wilson to establish Leeds Church, not more than a half mile away. The house may have been a double house since it is six bays long and has two center front doors, is two rooms deep with a similar plan in reverse and stairs in both sides of the house. Judging from the interior woodwork, the building was probably built between 1790 - 1810, because the mantel in the Living Room has Federal reeding and is a pleasing design. Also the use of hand-made nails in the batten door on the enclosed stair would indicate a fairly early date. (One of the stairs was removed and rebuilt for ease of moving furniture. The present owners have had modern iron casement windows installed and have added a lean-to porch off the back where there used to be a kitchen wing and whose foundation still remains. Several of the houses in this area were double structures to serve the needs of the mill workers' families.	OPEN TO PUBLIC NO 5.
